

2ND NEWSLETTER

June 2017

SK.IN
SKILLS FOR INCLUSION

In this issue:

- 1 We were on the move
- 2 Training Course in Italy
- 3 Next step

This project is co-funded through the European Union's programme "Erasmus+"

Erasmus+

1 We were on the move

Like announced on the first edition of the newsletter, we had between the 19th and the 22nd of February the Kick-Off meeting in Lisbon. It was like expected a good opportunity for some of the partners meet for the first time. The introductions to the project were made clearer amongst all, a better understanding of the needs and capabilities of all sides took place and the plan for the course and activities was predefined.

Training Course in Italy 2

During the second week of May, took place close to Vinci the course where the 10 educators shared and learned tool and methods to better provide learning experiences to their learners. The program was divided in categories targeting different needs and learning objectives as there is big diversity among learners associated with our educators. The main topics were Learning to Learn, Self-Awareness and Emotional Management, Theater of the Oppressed, Non-Violent Communication and Communication Awareness through Transactional Analysis, Cooperation, Negotiation, Empathy and the skill recognition methodology of Open Badges.

During the 5 days of the course many topics were analysed and experimented, some more explored than others, that enabled educators to experience different good practices and understand better how some methods and techniques can be applied to different environments and sectors.

With the aim of skill recognition, open digital badges were further explained and experimented. The technology that allows users to assign and collect badges for tasks, attributes and roles gave purpose to the objective of learning and working with a different form of recognition for competences.

Open Badge Example

3 Next Steps

Following the plan, during the next months, all partners working with its own type of learners will develop activities where the learning experiences will be tested. This step is very important to assess in detail the practical usage of the new practices, analyse, readjust if necessary, evaluate and document. These activities will take place at Vinci, Italy, at the greek city of Larissa and finally at Satu Mare state prison in Romania. Different approaches for different needs will be experimented and the results are to be documented so that further on the project all partners can gather again to overlook the whole process.

Next Transnational Meeting

Satu Mare, Romania
11 to 15 of December 2017

